

CCP PUTS RAIL STAFF WELFARE ON THE RIGHT TRACK

Over 50% of staff involved in fatal rail accidents will experience major traumatic reactions

Staff return to work sooner after a traumatic incident if they receive proactive specialist trauma care

There is a way to prevent staff taking long term absence after traumatic incidents

How you respond is critical for the well-being of those affected; we provide the training you need

CCP works with a number of network operators, providing psychological support to drivers and other staff in the aftermath of major incidents.

To discuss the psychological welfare of your staff, contact us now to see how our experience can help you deliver effective trauma care.

T: 01756 796383 E: annachapman@ccpsupport.co.uk

ANNIVERSARIES PROVIDE POIGNANT MEMORIES

The last few months has seen anniversaries of some of the most high profile cases that CCP has ever been associated with.

HILLSBOROUGH

April 15 2014 saw the 25th anniversary of the Hillsborough disaster in which 96 Liverpool football fans lost their lives.

Kevin Tasker, a Partner at CCP helped to provide psychological support to social workers, psychologists and counsellors recruited specifically by Liverpool City Council to support the injured and bereaved.

Kevin said: "Historically the focus of trauma care had always been on those directly affected. However it was equally important in the aftermath of Hillsborough that the counsellors and social workers who were hearing harrowing stories on a daily basis were also supported".

With a fresh inquest now taking place, all at CCP hope that families finally achieve justice for their loved ones.

BRADFORD FIRE

The Valley Parade stadium fire on May 11 1985, which claimed the lives of 56 fans, was the catalyst to the CCP business and specialist trauma care services we offer clients today.

CCP was launched by Michael Stewart who led the award-winning Bradford Council emergency response team which spent two years providing counselling to both the bereaved and survivors.

Those experiences convinced Michael that he could replicate what had been achieved after the fire and help other companies and organisations better support their staff after major incidents, through a coordinated and proactive approach.

MADELEINE McCANN DISAPPEARANCE

On May 3 2007 Madeleine McCann was snatched from her bed while on a family holiday in Portugal, triggering a mystery which remains unsolved.

One of the first professional support people on the scene was CCP's Clinical Partner, Alan Pike. Alan was flown to the Algarve resort by the travel company used by the McCann's, to provide support not only to Madeleine's parents, but also to friends, resort staff and other guests.

Even today as enquiries into Madeleine's disappearance continue, Alan is on hand to provide support to Kate and Gerry whenever it is required.

CONSULTANT WATCH

CCP consultants have travelled as far afield as Ecuador and Norway in recent weeks in order to provide specialist trauma care.

Alan Pike spent 12 days in Ecuador following a major travel incident in which three people died.

Sharon Shah travelled to Norway on behalf of our client Vantage Insurance to support passengers and staff involved in a coach crash.